This program does not guarantee the quality of the treatment plans offered by the providers. The amount of the discount may vary based on the type of medication members purchase, but the pharmacy will not charge the member more than the discounted rate. The member is entirely responsible for the discounted price to the pharmacy at the time of service. SmithRx is not sponsored by or affiliated with any of the pharmacies identified. All medications must be used as directed; only manufacturer's warranties apply. Your savings are based on the discounts off the retail price, which is the price that those without insurance typically pay.
